Re: Brown v. Marriott International, Inc.
Docket No.: 14 CV 5960 (SLT)(MDG)
Handling Attorneys: Alan C. Salzman, Mitchell G. Shapiro and Harvey Winer

Dear Judge Townes:

We represent the plaintiff; this is a request for a pre-motion conference on a discovery issue. We emailed defendant in an attempt to work out our differences and he responded that it would not be possible.

By letter dated 4/30/15, which we already filed in connection with a recent application to Judge Townes (annexed hereto with the exhibits), we outlined the discovery issues. Judge Townes by order dated 5/5/15 filed 5/7/15 directed us to you.

The documents that we demanded all were requested in contemplation of defendant's request to make a forum non conveniens motion to dismiss. Judge Townes had allowed us to amend our complaint to drop the St. Kitt's defendant and have only Marriott International Inc. remain, with leave to add allegations of agency and estoppel. Judge Townes also denied defendant request for a pre-motion conference on the forum non conveniens motion without prejudice to renew after we amend the complaint.

Our claims here are that the defendant Marriott International Inc. exercises dominion and control over the hotel in St. Kitt's—and disclosure of the documents we demand will aid us in defeating a forum non conveniens motion (defendant seeks to transfer venue to St. Kitt's).

Of course we cannot predict whether the forum non conveniens motion will actually be made or when—but we are trying to be proactive.

Very truly yours,

Re: Brown v. Marriott International, Inc.
Docket No.: 14 CV 5960 (SLT)(MDG)
Handling Attorneys: Alan C. Salzman, Mitchell G. Shapiro and Harvey Winer

Dear Judge Townes:

We represent the plaintiff, and must respond to defendant's 4/30/15 letter insofar as it makes arguments in connection with their request for a conference on their motion to dismiss based on forum non conveniens, while at the same time ultimately consenting to our proposed amendment.

We served a notice for discovery of documents dated 3/4/15 (Exhibit "A") which was filed with this court, consisting of 32 demands. Defendant in a response dated 4/2/15 (Exhibit "B" without exhibits) essentially provided only 3 documents and objected to every other demand.

Our demands go to the essence of our claim herein that defendant Marriott International Inc., is intimately involved with the ownership, maintenance, supervision and general management of the subject Marriott Hotel in St Kitts. They hide behind corporate veils that we seek to pierce.

They are all insured by the same American Home Assurance Co. insurance policy (a division of AIG). Defense did provide the insurance policy as Exhibit C to his response and the "declaration" page is attached hereto (Exhibit "C") confirming that the Royal St. Kitts Marriott and Marriott International Inc. are covered under the same policy, along with other St. Kitts entities. This further substantiates that it is merely paperwork and not substance that separates these entities.

Re: Brown v. Marriott International, Inc. (Docket No.: 14CV 5960 (SLT)(MDG)

April 30, 2015

There should be no impediment to the carrier settling this case in New York for the true value of this personal injury case, since the same insurance carrier will pay whether the case is pending in Brooklyn or St. Kitts. The contemplated forum non conveniens motion is just an attempt by defense to frustrate plaintiff in her quest for fair compensation for her injuries sustained due to the hotel's negligence, by transferring the case to a venue that will only deprive plaintiff of any chance of being made whole. The carrier would rather pay defense counsel attorney fees, than attempt to settle this case in good faith.

In order to have a chance to successfully oppose any contemplated forum non conveniens motion, we would need the court to compel defendant to respond to our demands. A pre-motion conference on this discovery issue may also be required and is hereby requested.

In an age of transparency, Marriott International Inc. has cloaked itself behind agreements totally unknown to the general public. Ms. Brown chose the St. Kitt's Marriott Hotel strictly because of the Marriott name and its stature as an Hotelier. For Marriott International, Inc. to seek removal of this case to St. Kitt's would be against the general interests of the New York public. Certainly if Ms. Brown was aware that Marriott International, Inc. would not stand behind its name, she might have chosen a different and far less expensive Hotel.

In essence Marriott International is looking at plaintiff Ms. Brown with a jaundiced eye and saying "I fooled you" – you thought you were staying at a Marriott Hotel but you were not.

Very truly yours,
SALZMAN & WINER, LLP.

DEFENDANT'S RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO PLAINTIFF'S
SUPPLEMENTAL NOTICE FOR DISCOVERY AND INSPECTION DATED MARCH 4, 2015

By and through their undersigned counsel, MARRIOTT INTERNATIONAL, INC.
("Defendant") hereby responds and objects to plaintiff's Supplemental Notice for Discovery and Inspection as follows:

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Defendant makes the following General Objections to the Notice. Because these General Objections apply to each and every document request and interrogatory, they are for convenience set forth immediately below. The assertion of the same, similar, or additional objections in response to specific document requests does not waive or modify any of the General Objections set forth below. Documents that fall within any of the categories of the General Objections will not be produced.

1. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds that it is in an improper form.
Solely for the purposes of these Response and Objections, Defendant will respond to each request in the Notice as if it were a properly served and formatted demand.

2. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds and to the extent that it seeks information that is irrelevant to the claims asserted against Defendant in Plaintiff's Complaint, and is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

3. Defendant objects to the Notice on the ground and to the extent that it seeks the disclosure of information that is subject to the attorney-client, legal-professional, or joint or common defense privileges, the attorney work product protection, or any other applicable privileges or protections. Any inadvertent disclosure of any such material should not be deemed a waiver of any objection.

4. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds and to the extent it seeks disclosure of confidential, proprietary, or sensitive business information and/or documents protected from disclosure by law, court order, or any agreement with respect to confidentiality or nondisclosure.

5. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds and to the extent that it purports to impose obligations on Defendant beyond the requirements of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and/or the Local Rules of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York.

6. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds and to the extent that it is unduly burdensome, oppressive, and/or vexatious.

7. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds and to the extent that it is vague, ambiguous, or does not specify the information sought with sufficient particularity.

8. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds and to the extent that it seeks information equally available to, or already known to, Plaintiff.

9. Defendant objects to the Notice on the ground and to the extent that it seeks documents outside the possession, custody, or control of Defendant.

10. Defendant objects to each request to the extent that it is repetitive or cumulative of other requests.

11. Defendant objects to the Notice on the grounds and to the extent that it improperly seeks to elicit legal conclusions.

12. Defendant objects to each request to the extent that it does not set forth a reasonable time period to which the request relates on the grounds that such requests are overly broad and unduly burdensome and seek documents that are neither relevant nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

13. Defendant reserves all rights to object to the use of any responses herein in any subsequent proceedings, including the trial of this or any other action. To the extent Defendant produces documents in response to the Notice, Defendant does not concede that the documents requested are relevant to this action, and Defendant preserves all objections as to competency, relevancy, materiality, and admissibility. Defendant makes their responses to these requests based on their present knowledge and expressly reserve the right to object to further discovery into the subject matter of any of the requests and the right to supplement their responses if and when they become aware of additional information.

14. Defendant objects to each request to the extent that it requests all documents "concerning" a specific topic on the grounds that such a request is vague, ambiguous, overbroad, unduly burdensome and oppressive, and seeks information that is neither relevant nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. To the extent that Defendant agrees to disclosure information in response to specific requests not otherwise objectionable. Defendant will produce such documents that refer or relate in a reasonably direct manner to the specified topic.

15. Defendant objects to each request to the extent that it requests "all" documents relating to a specific topic, on the grounds that such a request is overly broad and unduly burdensome, and imposes an excess discovery burden on the Defendant.

16. Defendant objects to the definition of "document," "documents," "record," and "records" on the ground that they are vague, ambiguous, overly broad, unduly burdensome, and seek information not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

17. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's definition of "person" on the grounds and to the extent that it is overly broad, unduly burdensome, vague, and ambiguous in that it purports to encompass natural persons and business entities which are not parties to this action.

18. Defendant objects to the production of any documents falling within one of the General Objections above or specific objections set forth below. In the event that documents falling within the scope of an objection are produced by Defendant, this production is inadvertent and does not constitute a waiver of the objection.

RESPONSES TO SPECIFIC DEMANDS

1. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant further objects as Plaintiff's demand seeks information which is not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence that is relevant to the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of defendant. Without waiving those objections, see attached Exhibit "A", marked as Confidential, and Bates-Stamped MI-00089- MI-00091.

2. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Further Defendant objects as Plaintiff's demand seeks information which is not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence that is relevant to the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of defendant. Without waiving those objections, see attached Exhibit "C", Bates-Stamped MI-00193 to MI-00252.

3. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

4. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant. Further Defendant objects as Plaintiff's demand seeks information within the public realm, which Plaintiff can obtain on her own.

5. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for the "deed" as defendant does not own the subject property or premises. Defendant further objects as Plaintiff seeks documents or records that are filed with the sovereign government of St. Kitts and Nevis. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant

6. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Further Defendant objects as Plaintiff's demand seeks information which is not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence that is relevant to the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant. Without waiving those objections, there is no such agreement. Plaintiff is referred to Defendant's initial Rule 26 disclosure dated March 19, 2015.

7. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant. Without waiving those objections, Defendant has no pictures that are responsive to Plaintiff's demand.

8. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

9. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant. Defendant further objects to Plaintiff's demand for "rules and regulations" as vague, overbroad, and lacking foundation.

10. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects as Plaintiff's demand seeks information which is not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence that is relevant to the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant. Without waiving those objections, Plaintiff is referred to Defendant's initial Rule 26 Disclosure.

11. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

12. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant further objects as the information requested by Plaintiff is readily obtainable by Plaintiff, who can easily perform her own Litigation Search.

13. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

14. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

15. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

16. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and unduly burdensome. Without waiving that objection, see attached Exhibit "B", Bates-Stamped MI-00092 to MI-00192.

17. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and not tailored to lead to relevant admissible evidence. Without waiving those objections, See Exhibit "B."

18. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, and not tailored to lead to relevant admissible evidence.

19. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

20. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as vague and overbroad, and not tailored to lead to relevant admissible evidence.

21. Luxury Hotels International Management St. Kitts Ltd., is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Marriott International. Plaintiff is further referred to Defendant's initial Rule 26 Disclosure, dated March 19, 2015.

22. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Further Defendant objects as Plaintiff's demand seeks information which is not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence that is relevant to the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Without waiving those objections, Plaintiff is referred to Defendant's Initial Rule 26 Disclosures dated March 19, 2015.

23. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and vague. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

24. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and not tailored to lead to relevant admissible evidence. Without waiving those objections, Plaintiff is referred to Exhibit "B."

25. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, vague, and not tailored to lead to relevant and admissible evidence.

26. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, vague, and not tailored to lead to relevant and admissible evidence.

27. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and unduly burdensome. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

28. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and unduly burdensome. Defendant further objects to Plaintiff's demand as seeking documents, records, and information which are not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence in accordance with the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

29. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and unduly burdensome. Defendant further objects to Plaintiff's demand as seeking documents, records, and information which are not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence in accordance with the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

30. Pursuant to Rule 34(b)(2)(C), Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad, seeking information and documents from entities that are not parties to the lawsuit. Defendant further objects as Plaintiff's demand seeks information which is not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence that is relevant to the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

31. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and unduly burdensome. Defendant further objects to Plaintiff's demand as seeking documents, records, and information which are not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence in accordance with the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

32. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand as overbroad and unduly burdensome. Defendant further objects to Plaintiff's demand as seeking documents, records, and information which are not reasonably tailored to lead to admissible evidence in accordance with the allegations of Plaintiff's complaint. Defendant objects to Plaintiff's demand for information and records of foreign entities who are not related to, or under the control of Defendant.

Please be advised that Defendant reserves the right to supplement an augment these responses as discovery continues, in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
